RICK STEVES' DYNAMIC EUROPE: AMSTERDAM, PRAGUE, BERLIN

In his latest special, travel guru Rick Steves tours three of Europe's most energetic capitals — Prague, Amsterdam and Berlin. In each city, Rick shares his valuable insights on art, culture and history, along with his practical, experience-enhancing travel advice. In Prague, the capital of the Czech Republic, Rick experiences its massive castle, beloved statue-lined bridge, evocative Jewish Quarter, and thrilling 20th-century history while enjoying its infectious love of music and some of the tastiest beer in Europe. Then, he explores uniquely entertaining Amsterdam, a quaint yet jarring city filled with Rembrandts and Van Goghs, more bikes than cars, flirting prostitutes, and pot-filled coffeeshops — all beneath tall, skinny facades leaning out below quaint church towers. In reunited Berlin, Rick finds evocative memorials and other reminders of the city's 20th-century tumult, and enjoys its now-trendy east side, people-friendly riverfront and vibrant social scene.

Airs Wednesday, June 10th at 7PM and Sunday, June 14th at 7PM

RICK STEVES' EUROPE: REMOTE, SACRED, WILD

Rick Steves' Europe: Remote, Sacred, Wild celebrates the wonder of the great outdoors and religious sites in Europe and beyond. The half-hour pledge event finds Rick canoeing through the tiny canals of a Dutch nature preserve, hiking in Northern England's pristine Lake District, exploring Italy's most remote and romantic stretch of Riviera, and marveling at exquisite Medieval art in the sister cities of Ravenna and Chartres. In the Muslim and Arab half of the Holy Land, Rick adventures through the Judean Desert, visits a remote monastery, and bobs in the Dead Sea.

Airs Thursday, June 11th at 8PM and Saturday, June 29th at 9PM

LEGACY OF HEART MOUNTAIN

Heart Mountain is a spectacular and beautiful backdrop to a story of triumph and tragedy. Seventy years ago, an internment camp filled with 10,000 Japanese Americans sat in the shadow of the mountain. It was just a few miles outside Cody, Wyoming, where the land is rugged and the weather is brutal. It's where American citizens were imprisoned behind barbed wire and guard towers for no other reason than their heritage. The Hirahara Photo Collection tells the story of Heart Mountain through pictures. In this collection were amazing images taken by Patti Hirahara's father and grandfather while inmates at Heart Mountain. They built a secret dark room under their barracks where they developed the film. In the years they were imprisoned, they took thousands of photos of camp life. Each photo is an opportunity to see the daily struggles of innocent people dealing with internment, and how they worked so hard to ignore the obvious and make life livable. In this documentary, we travel to Wyoming to visit the place where this camp once stood. Now there's a museum and interpretive center to keep the memory of the camp and what happened there alive. Most vivid, however, are the stories from people who once called Heart Mountain "home". From heart warming to heart breaking, their experience of life in an American concentration camp reminds us of the fragility of freedom. To know the story of Heart Mountain is to know the story of an entire generation of Japanese Americans during World War Two - that's 120 thousand innocent people locked up in 10 different concentration camps. In today's world where society continues to struggle over issues of race, fueled by hate and fear, the lessons we learned 70 years ago are just as relevant today. Japanese American internment is one of the most profound chapters in American history, yet is hardly touched by our history books. This film's mission is to keep that story alive.

Airs Sunday, June 7th at 7PM

Guitar Hero Joe Bonamassa performs an exclusive event concert experience at Red Rocks Amphitheater celebrating the music of blues legends Muddy Waters and Howlin' Wolf. Beginning just before sundown, the concert highlights the natural beauty of the amphitheater and focuses primarily on the catalogs of Howlin' Wolf, one of the most influential Chicago bluesmen of all time, known for his deep, scratchy voice, and Muddy Waters, considered the "father of modern Chicago blues" and a major inspiration for the British blues explosion of the 1960s, a genre that Bonamassa grew up with and that influences his own music to this day. A full performance will be dedicated to a selection of songs from each artist, starting with a tribute to Muddy Waters, dressing in formal Blues white as Muddy used to and showcasing archival footage of Muddy in this first section. The following segments are a tribute to Howlin' Wolf and then a set of songs from Bonamassa's own extensive catalog with three new songs from his new album, Different Shades of Blue.
